REVERSE INTRODUCTION :

"....and I well remember my darling Guardians returning home from the trinket market in the snow, carrying into the drawing room two identical porcelain vases. As they were placed upon the wooden table, I was seized with a giddy expectancy of wonder, and was possessed by an exquisitely irresistible urge to place them close to each other. No sooner had I done this, that under the flickering gaslights illumination I discovered a third, immaterial vase formed by the space between the first two...."

From 'Recollections in the Mystery Garden' by Lucinda Rose - 1813

When one looks at a good or bad painting, fish ripples in a lake, the folds of a young girl's dress, graffiti on a bank poster, an old crumbling moss covered wall, or hear the strange moanings and knocking noises emanating through your neighbour's wall - we register what is presented to our senses. In the case of a painting, we are aware of its immediate surface, acknowledging the power the paint marks generate as they work off each other and tickle your fancy; but if we gaze longer, deeper...we find that, to our surprise, SOMETHING ELSE IS THERE. Probably unarticulatable to describe to another, but present in our minds just the same - an intuitive feeling of what is behind the apparent structure, that its totality is far greater and more mysterious, and separate than the sum of all its parts. Our mind has jumped off the 'precipice of patterns' and penetrated into the Amazing Maze of another reality.

What the sensitive picks up on is not the surface picture, what is there physically in front of the eyes, but the INTENT behind the arranged materials used. We can often feel the force of intentions themselves, far ahead of any physical action that may involve us subsequently. Even if no actions follow, we have no doubt that we have experienced the other person's intention. We know (as in the case of receiving a confident, hostile stare by one skilled in the esoteric Marital Arts) that they were committed and that they later chose not to follow through with their actions. This 'Silent Language' is the feeling that our intentions project. In artistic pursuits, the artist's intentions are directed towards creating the finished piece, and can be sensed somewhere amongst that piece by others who look at it. This is why great statues sometimes appear to move: the intent of the sculptor was so intensely energized and focussed towards creating such a realistic figure that they imbue the clay form with life. Animals as well as humans project their intention as a natural part of their determination to kill or mate with another being. This is the Key to the real secret of how to talk to the animals and, indeed, to beings on other planes of reality.

It is usually incomprehensible to the conscious waking mind and the 'man in the street', but this is not the only facet of intelligence. There are myriad layers of awareness beyond this, some of which operate within a pictorial language, a vague nuance of sonics, or pure feeling.

It is to these other vectors that the IIIrd Side appeals and communicates, for only they understand its import. Away from textbooks and personal opinions, in the rich tapestry of Life there is always an enchanting perichoresis or interpenetration of dimensions, often sensed in childhood where the boundaries of worlds are less defined, (this is echoed by some critics of OKOKianism, who say that there is a thin line between genius and insanity!)

Just as dreams (the astral world) when denied through lack of sleep will push themselves into waking reality (the physical world), and be unthinkingly explained away as 'hallucinations' by the adult, this is a great reductionist mistake, for they are just as real as anything else perceived. We love it or kill it, depending on temperament - most of us riding the hobby-horse of another's beliefs.

The human consciousness is a field, existing amongst many others. The television's circuitry also creates a field, as does the air currents swirling through the leaves of a tree. Even 'inanimate' objects such as a book or a house vibrate at their own rates a certain presence or background resonance, and can be said to possess a field, their peculiar zone of sentience. This polymorphous pantheistic view is simple, therefore true, for simplicity is most precious, in heaven or earth. These fields, being in essence the same thing, are therefore interrelated. Like attracts Like, and can communicate with each other and potentially have other forms of interaction. Any with Any other. Everything is fornicating, all the time...Each field transmits and receives.

If thou doubtst mine words, just place your forehead against a colour TV screen with the sound turned down for half an hour, and you'll soon become aware of the thoughts that are not yours. Concentrate on Love - strengthen it's field the next time you are in company and see how it effects your friends, and even strangers. Wear a t-shirt with an averse pentagram emblazoned upon it. Go into a cathedral then see what it's field generates will do. Its 'only' lines on cloth?! You scoffers! Verily, I herald an end to doubt! I am skeptical about skepticism....

The ardent IIIrdist, head swathed in gold, with a scarlet eye and green leathern boots, soars above all prison yards of illusion! For they are entranced in the Thirdoid ekstacy of obtuse delight!!!

The 3rd Side could be seen as the subconscious mind, but it is not. It is a wholly separate dimension or world that the subconscious, more magical parts of the mind can interact with yes, but it is not of the human consciousness. It is alien. So are the IIIrd's Transmissions remnants of some cryptolactic timeless radar organism broadcasts of the Flying Saucerers? or solidified recollections of the exorsex hybrid dreams? Verily, I quoth no, for the 3 is a sterner countenance, immune to hypnotised soothsayers and spectralists of the iron book. It is It's.

In New Aeon English Qabalah, THIRD SIDE = 128, the same number value of SUBLIMINAL, also SECRET NOW, which hints at it's ever-present but hidden nature. 128 further equals SECRET WAND, and FREEING, which suggests it is a weapon of magic, at hand to those who know how to find and wield it's powers of power. It is noble in it's secrecy, and only the noble shall uncover it's delights. THIRD SIDE is also equivalent to ENTRANCE, in the same system, which needs no further comment....

Altho' we suspect that it didn't exist here before Those responsible initiated the current terrestrial lifewave; or perhaps that it was truly silent because there was no-one around to notice it, we do now proclaim that the IIIrd is the perfect avatar and focus for the radical denziens of Subterranean Culture; those goodly poets, artists, sorcerers, witches, musicians and outer ones who create in reverse, lurk in the stillnesses, in the velvet shades of metaphysical shadows behind all things.

A concrete example of this, stylized pictorially in moving picture form, is the 1968 American International Pictures film, 'The Man with the X-Ray Eyes'. Starring Ray Milland as a renegade doctor who invents via alchemical processes a special elixir that when dropped into the eyes enables him to observe more finer, rarefied wavelengths and frequencies normally inaccessible to human vision. This low-budget drive-in B movie has many fine 3rd Side moments and revealings encoded in it's spellbound labyrinth, especially in the sequences featuring the unusual colour effects produced by bizarre optical lenses used to depict the elixir's effects as we see through the doctor's eyes the worlds beyond...The 3rd is now ingrained into the actual molecular structure quality of the film stock in these segments, due to repeated showings to strange-lusting people under the Full Moon, and OKOK heartily recommends the encurious to obtain a copy (on video - not DVD). Even it's title holds a potent clue matrix for the IIIrdist Seeker. It is total Third.

At this very moment as I type these words straight, I feel the 3rd guiding mine hand. This essay is writing itself, all reflected in the mirror's glass.

The 3rd Side Concept was first grasped intuitively, perhaps unconsciously, even unwittingly, in modern times by the OKOKians in secret, and in public by the pioneers of musique concrete in France mid-1950s, via the combinatio n of mostly non-verbal sounds gained from natural sources and objects, play ed back on reel to reel tape machines at differing speeds, enhanced with th e use of electronic noise generators and the beautifying aspects of effects units such as echo chambers, enfiltering devices, analogue delays and sprin g reverbs. Coaxing out the taciturn Third, the resulting compositions of th ese great men, which, when listened to under candle or moon light late at n

Now that the electromagnetic hymen was broken, and the crackling, spirallant juices of phonic delection runs down the milk-white quivering legs to the rejoicing chants of the True Monks, it had paved the way for the 3rd to later emerge out of it's relative obscurity into wider recognition in the tape cut-up/montage experiments of William Burroughs, Brion Gysin and Iam Somerville, this time using more verbalist language and realtime signifiers with a control warping cultural angle to it's flavour. The viant effects of these tapes on the listener could engender a most odd effect, literally shortcircuiting normal brain patternings. These three are even rumoured to have used cut-up technique literally on themselves. The five-hour film documenting this period of research, 'Ghosts at Number 9', shot by Antony Balch, with it's inspired use of superimposition and mathematically precise equal segments of film rearranged to a set pattern arbitrarily selected beforehand is a prime example of the kaleidoscope vision of the Third's flowery heart in word and image.

It is interesting to note that $3 \times 3 = 9$, the perfect evolution of IIIrd into three dimensions, and conversely, the transcending of the two into the Third, that is, duality jumps back into the Void. This was symbolized by the ancients by the upright triangle or pyramid.

Audio IIIrd Side usually works best only on Analogue magnetic recording tape, as this has two distinct sides, both A + B, each side also having two separate audio channels, stereo or mono (this shouldn't be confused with monostomos monomania). Thus the Third can enter unhindered inbetween these on waves of electrophonic overtone mystique. The IIIrdist knows better in the metaphorical dialectical free for all. The humming luminant. Digital recording mediums are not much good at capturing the influx of Thirdian Signals above the noise of two as cds, minidisks etc only have one side and are therefore monotheistic and rigid, not conducive to extreme perchance fluctuation tides at all.

As presaid, 3rd sumtime enmanifests in film, showing it's triumphant insignia especially via 'wonky' or worn videotapes, dirty or scratched, sun-melted cine film, or unplanned manufacturing faults - Third prints itself through. A wonderful example of this Being Luis Bunuel and Salvador Dali's classic 1928 Surrealist motion picture 'Un Chien Andalou'. Several Magical X times during it's length the 3rd my love appears. In the space inbetween two consecutive edits of consciously joined film a 'glitch' appears subliminally, almost for a fraction of a second. This unconscious and mysterious semi-transparent yet misty with forms abstracted segment-blip is a sure manifestation of the Third Side, that provokes in the viewer an awareness of that which is beyond the control of the conscious ego. It represents the unplanned porthole, the irrational majesty, the things that live behind the mirror, outside the threshold of all known existence. It is through this illogical door that the IIIrd enters to you, and through which you can GO TO IT. A sign of Ingress - Outgress - Transgress...The edit-window wasn't planned, but the Beings of 3rd have their own script interlayed and directed the editing hands to reveal their implant, shown clearly for those rarefied of sense to notice it and understand the ramifications. In Electrical Voice Phenomena, (EVP) the entities involved in that spectrum claim to have their own transmitting stations on ethereal worlds. This is similar but different...

Of course, the IIIrd is not without it's more sinister side. Like everything else. Fleshed amply by the neo-OKOK groupings such as the O.D.F in Switzerland. In dream-suspected stupors the Insanitaenous Black Sun echoes that dance to the Eternal Vectors of Aragos.

The IIIrd Side really is terrific. Exclusive - it is not for the dark bottles of the proletariat, the coarse, blinkered, uneducated morass of unrefined dopes. The man in the street hears only the whining screech of his own stultified tunnel vision spluttering out of rusty car exhausts on the cheap driving stupid. We hold the Iron Rose up to their fumbling gaze. We were curious after this to see the broadcast in Xmas 2000 of the television advert for the Sony Playstation 2. With it's use of quasi-surreal black and white imagery (symbolising the two sides) depicting another hypereal dimension in habited by hybrid manimal creatures and nightmarish monsters (possible beings of Third seen translated by man in the street) - (IIIrdist walks untrodden paths), and the then mysterious sounding person (unseen by camera - the hidden mask) stating in altered-processed by effects the hook phrase of the advert, "WELCOME TO THE THIRD PLACE" is but testimony enough of the dynamic powers of OKOK and 3. This blatant appropriation and promulgation of OKOKian tropes proves beyond doubt our magical effectiveness and relevance to contemporary worldviews, as well as demonstrating the all pervasive seducto-faculatory tentacles of IIIrd - seeping entry from the hide into the whining sprawl of the global mass media communications industry network.

One shouldn't underestimate the effects of the spreading of this cast 3rd Web. The very real and stimulant Thirds Side concept being flashed on the TV screen's medium into the homes and minds of millions of people worldwide, especially the ever-impressionable, enthusiastic hormone-crazy pre-teens. Thirdoid vibrations have hit the brains of big business advertising executives through humming pricked ears for it's own cunning plan for the New Millennium....(The fact that the 'Playstation 2' is a computer game designed mainly for children, that relies on adept Hand + Eye coordination should come as no surprise).

Or could this unexpected televisual-computo product thing be a sly attempt by spectacle media and it's dependant zombies to recuperate and thus dilute the impact and subversive power of the IIIrd? If so, it will be futile, as the 3 dances to Nobody's Tune, swirling to an unknown melody beyond. It has it's own mysterious purpose.

It does not need the bucks structure. One does not require expensive equipment or professional production values either. In fact, they are a hindrance to the [REDACTED] ions of Third. I mean, let's get country simple here infused with farmer's wisdom. The IIIrd is much more likely to manifest raised in the magic hour tapestry amongst two or three inner city teenagers stoned on cheap cider, playing around with an old Grundig reel to reel, valve radio and Victorian carbon telephone mic in ouija board seance excitement levels, than Lionel Ritchie in his clinically clean Bel Air thousand Dollars an hour state of the art (and what a state!) recording studio thronged with a gaggle of sychophantic engineers at his beck and call, drearily fulfilling his corporate obligations to produce two albums a year for EMI deal.

The importance of the Ingredients of Atmosphere are not lost on the IIIrd because the Third is Atmospheric.

The IIIrd Side Concept has always been an integral and intrinsic part of Operation OKOK, and we have repeatedly proved and demonstrated that Strong Third can be incorporated into a live performance concert of experimental music + multimedia show using 'junk' shop equipment including many tape recorders, shortwave radios, empty heads, telephones and contact mics. All distortion and 'happy accidents' are welcomed and the knob twiddlers hands orgasm at the very words 'mixing desk'. We leave spaces unplanned or rehearsed beforehand to allow the ingress of 3rd. We must turn it about and about, not to set the ornaments jingling, or little bells ringing; rather that you may see it's shapeliness enhanced, its proportions emphasized, and in all the shifting lights and shadows of its ornamentation discern it still for the notion that it is. Altho' we now only play to spastic children and psychiatric patients, demonstrations of our Live IIIrd are rarely witnessed by the general public, many of our legendary performances have been recorded onto analogue audio cassettes. These archive recordings are only really available to fellow OKOKians, even if anyone else buys them, as many do not even 'buy' the concept. They hear the Third but do not realize they are doing so, so it has been deemed wise to offer them on a worthiness basis, especially to females. Should you feel an inmost desire to experience the IIIrd, write and tell us in detail why this is so, and we may reward your time and effort with said cassette in jewel case.

Here and now, in this second edition of the OKOK Manual, the IIIrd is presented in graphic form, one of its many guises, amongst line, text + image. Fully revised and expanded by over 44 pages, it should be experienced as if one has come across it in a dream, where occult sex dances in the background. Only then will its message bypass all censors and germinate in the interesting deeper parts of the mind that produces magical effects.

Conclusion / Beginning :

The reader may remember that we were led to plunge into the Labyrinth of Third by a consideration of what it is not. This is the clue which has guided our devious steps through the maze, and brought us out at last on higher ground, approaching the zenith, whence, resting a little by the way, we can look back over the rude path we have already traversed, place some silver coinage by the candlelight and forward our intent onwards to the longer and steeper and more crooked road we still have to climb.

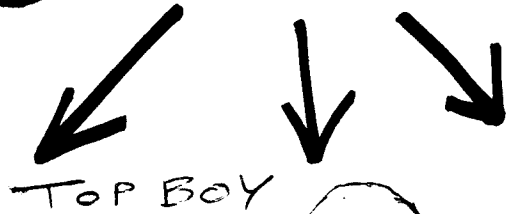

Lament not the happy passage of our stolen delights, for as the ridiculous tenets of Zen orthodoxy reveals: What is thought is soon past, and more wisely forgotten.....And so, dear reader, this introduction returns to before it began. Forget what has been said, as words merely cloud the issue with dank closed fog. In this revelation only the slaves rejoice, and so the IIIrd.

The less said about it, the less obscure it is. So do not dwell on this treatise, sink your own well to realize. Oh come unto the Third with a virgin mind + suckle sweetly on its emanations as a babe of obsidian symmetry !!!

MOAN

Am I more of a magician than I feel. The feelings not carried out, is that through illness, ie magician death

Its at times like this moment that I could find out. It is the $\frac{1}{2}$ in the last sentence that's important. Words take you away from the magicians moment. That moment has not been roped / appeared (yet). It is a combination of many inputs converging - giving rise to weirdness and through many such experiences the keys to the combining or dividing deemed necessary at the particular moment. It is for this reason that age appeals to me.

Im not sure if it is finished and the letter says just put me in it . . it is finished.

I feel very much on the line . in all worlds.. Very devious feelings can get pulled in at this time .

The right foot corresponds to the right side of the body, the left foot to the left side. The reflex areas of the feet are linked to the corresponding parts of the body by 10 zones, or paths. Each side of the body that run from toes to fingertips. Within each path there is a flow of energy that links the other areas in the body. Imbalances in the body can be detected at the end of all the paths - the feet and the hands.

Monday, ever present at F-2.

The Special K has not been opened as yet - feels good to have it on the Formica kitchen surface like it is part of my life - dieh^{of}. The inSelf-Self that lurks at 2. That left 6. That left 8. That does not breathe at Cael Cae. The double split - $1 \rightarrow \begin{pmatrix} 2 \\ 1 \end{pmatrix} 2$ $1 \rightarrow \begin{pmatrix} 1 \\ 1 \end{pmatrix} 2 - 2$ the Split in the double has been decided by the ^{will of the} ONE. so that the intrigued double wishing to identify itself 'correctly' wishes a mirror to view ONE. Um

I am still linking with a "naff"-mind mysteries book still unsold in a charity shop.

The Stone I brought back from the Okok evenings is speaking abt of silence and movement. My double, both its parts sit and my Self moves out of its ^{split} body and moves things to the stone. This is happening.

This double, split thing. Sometimes the original double even doubts the mirror that it created to 'see' the ONE. And so stake mate develops. Clear head 'late at night' helps this to shift. The lesser time, - the vastness remains.
