'Devil's breath' spiking

A WOMAN claims she was spiked with a drug known as "Devil's Breath" on a UK train.

Deborah Oscar, 30, was on the London Tube's Elizabeth Line when a woman wafted a newspaper in her face - leaving her feeling "high" and "sleepy".

Barely able to keep her eyes open, Deborah thought of a TikTok clip about a drug called scopolamine, which comes from plants and is used in robberies in South America.

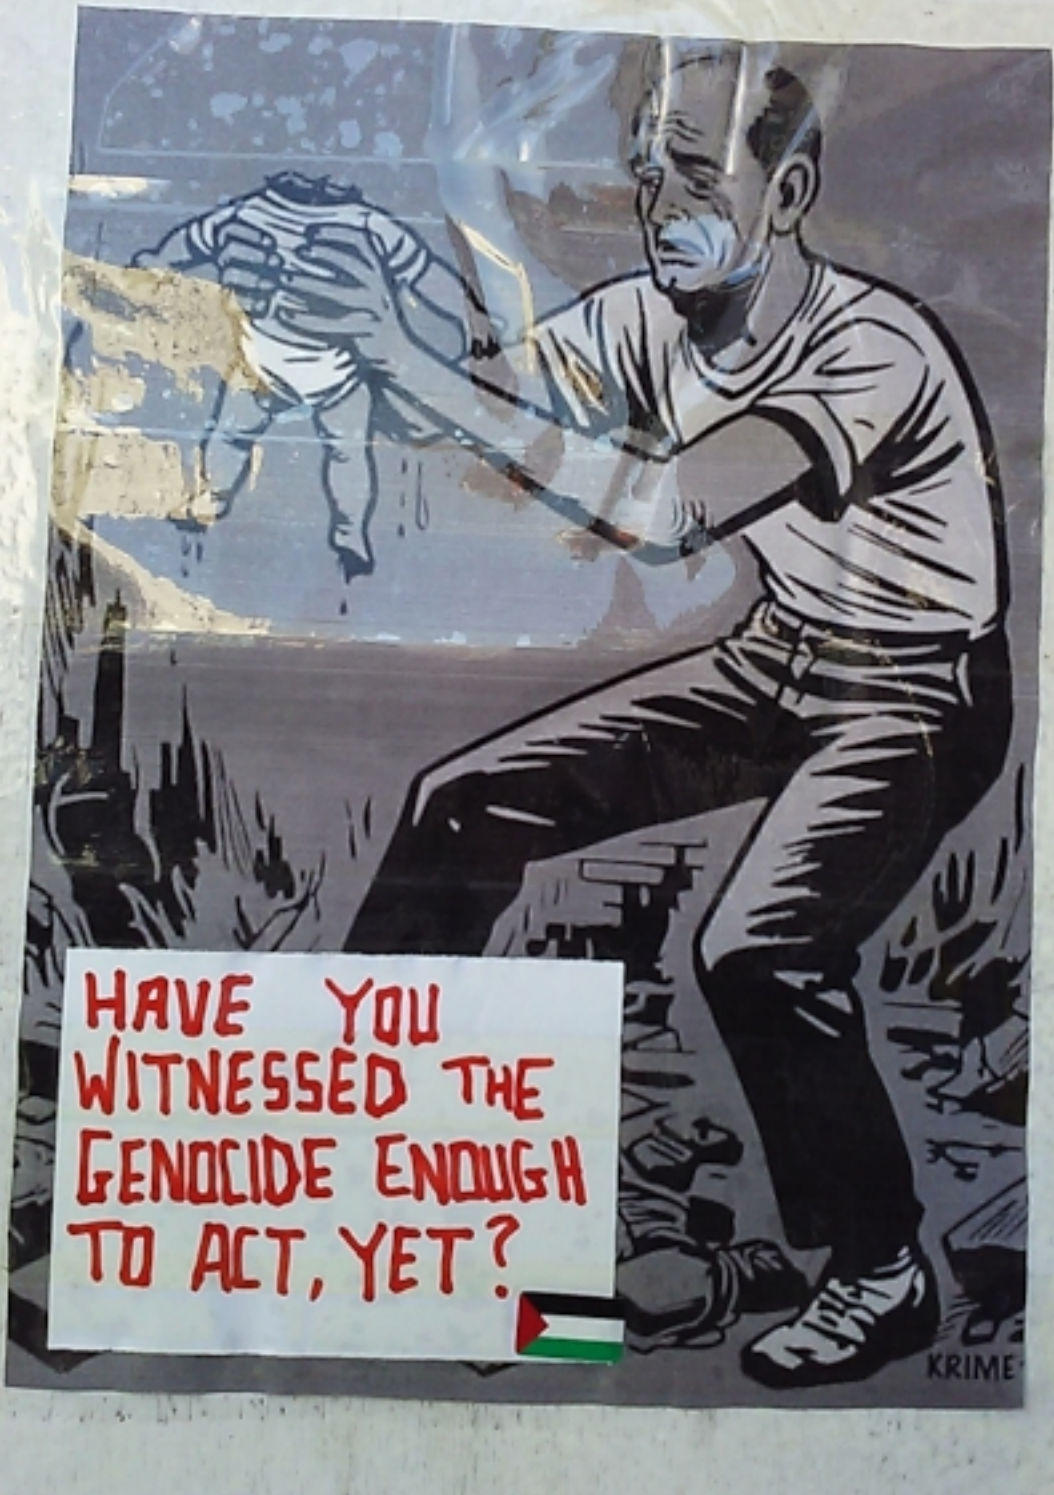

Deborah, of Abbey Wood, south-east London, said: "If I hadn't seen the video, I don't know what would've happened.

"I got off at the next stop as two men were looking at me."
